

Rothman Meets with the Honorable Peter Hain, the British Secretary of State for Northern Ireland

On Thursday, November 17, 2005 Congressman, Steve Rothman met with the Honourable Peter Hain, the British Secretary of State for Northern Ireland. Rothman and Hain discussed the recent developments in the Northern Ireland peace process. In September, the Irish Republican Army took an unprecedented step towards peace by successfully completing an official decommission of their weapons. Congressman Rothman is a member of the Northern Ireland Friends of Ireland Caucus of the U.S. House of Representatives.